I hope the day will be a lighter highway,
For friends have found a narrow road.
Can you ever think of any better way
For the lost and weary travellers to go?

Making friends for the world to see,
Let the people know you got what you need

With a friend at hand
you will see the light
If your friends are there everything's all right.

It seems to me a crime that we should age

These fragile times should never slip us by.

A time you never can or shall erase
As friends together watch their Childhoods fly.

Making friends for the world to see,
Let the people know you got what you need.
With a friend at hand you will see the light,
If your friends are there, everything's all right.

We, the graduating seniors, fondly dedicate the 1973 yearbook to Mr. Amzi Barber in appreciation of his sincerity, patience, trust, and concern for each class member. Mr. Barber has been of invaluable help in the organization of class functions and activities, but even more importantly, he has been a good friend to all.

DISTRICT CHAMPS

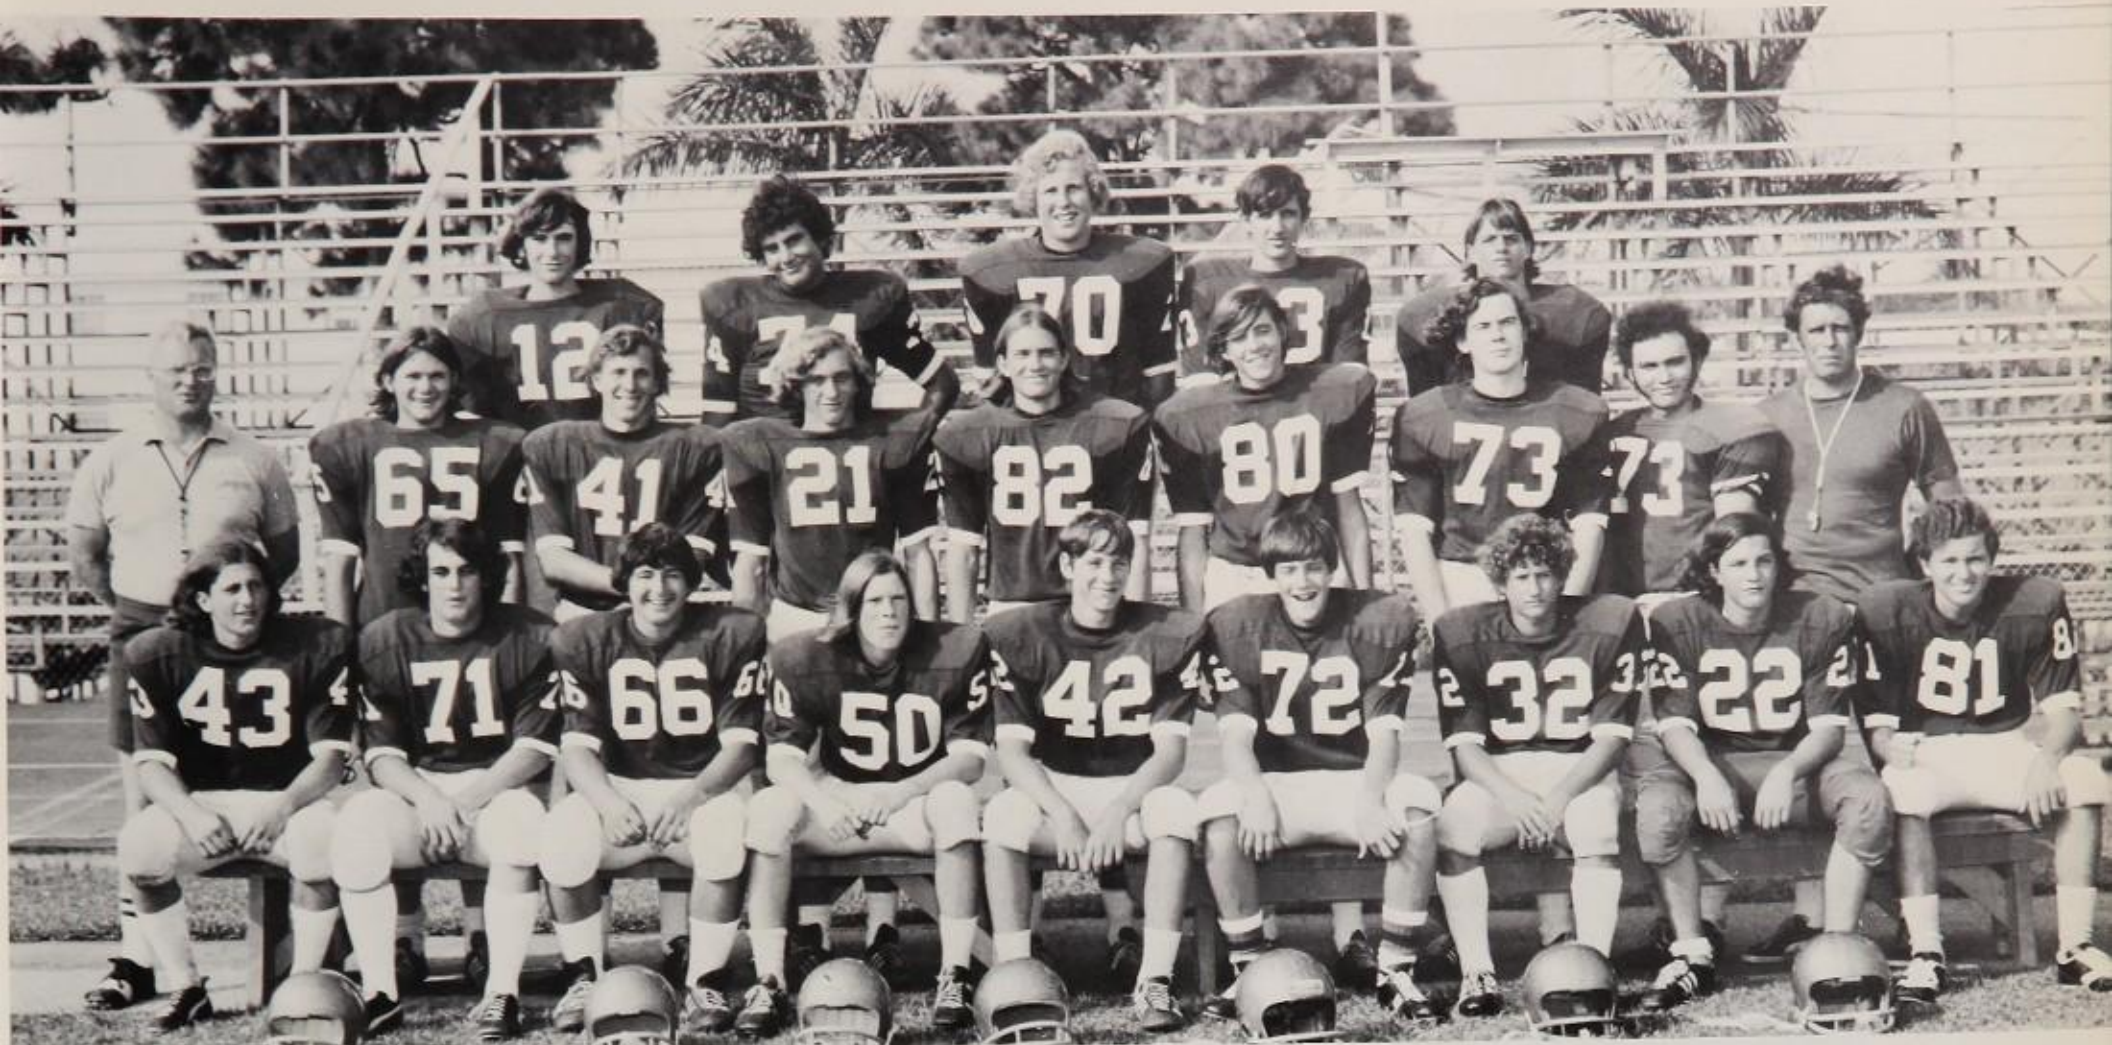

The 1972 Varsity football season can only be described as tremendous; yet, it was a difficult and strenuous challenge. As football scores rose, so did school spirit until everyone was behind the Panthers.

Our team fought hard until they finally defeated every opponent in the district. Crowds chanting, players hurting, winning scores, the joy of victory and a struggle for success: this was all part of the 1972 Varsity season.

We will never forget . . . Coach Munsey being named "Coach of the Year" and P.C. becoming District Champs for the first time ever!!

Ann Marshall: Human Being or Swim Machine?

The Miami Herald
Broward Sports

SMITH

herald sports writer

At Munich, she beat the world record with a time of 2:05.45, but she finished fourth. Shane Gould won in 2:03.56.

Big deal, you say; she didn't even get a medal.

Consider that, as recently as a year ago, Ann Marshall was just another body in the pool. Two years ago, she was just a Group B swimmer in age-group competition.

EVEN ANNIE'S coach, loquacious Jack Nelson, has trouble finding the words to describe her lift-off. And her future seems so overwhelming he can't pinpoint an apogee for his young star.

"One of the great things about Annie," Nelson boasts, "is she sets no limits on herself mentally. She's immune to pressure."

Annie agrees. The dream of knocking down Gould, Babashoff and Rothhammer is secondary. The American record comes first.

"Even though it's an international meet, there's not that much pressure," she said. "And when the pressure does start getting to me, I ignore it."

Ann expects Gould, who just set world records in the 1500-meter freestyle and 200-meter backstroke, to swim the first 50 yards in 26 or 25 seconds quick.

"IN PRACTICE, I've been going out in 26 comfortably," Ann admitted. "But Shane really goes out fast. If she dies at the end, she dies honestly."

The red polish on the trimmed nails gives her away. Ann Marshall is really human after all.

But it's easy to be fooled.

When she talks, she sounds like a 16-year-old going on 35.

When she swims, it seems some invisible, abysmal force is pushing her from underneath in a smooth, effortless rhythm while all her swimmers thrash about the surface.

The tinted goggles worn in practice suggest affiliation with Captain Marvel or The Lone Ranger.

THE SHORT bobbed blonde hair, when it's dry, looks as if it is set with a curling iron and she is the lead in "Guys and Dolls." Only she doesn't wear tap shoes.

Really though, nobody visited Ann Marshall during a dream and promised her the world. No special powers from Kryptonite. No divine selection. She was born 16 years ago of normal parents — she did not materialize in a pink-and-gold cloud last summer.

Yes, Ann Marshall is indeed human, flesh and blood and bones and psyche and brain — all combined into a near-flawless machine.

Saturday, Ann Marshall moves another step up swimming's evolutionary ladder with a trip to Los Angeles for the United States vs. the World invitational dual meet.

Annie will swim 200 yards freestyle against Shane Gould, Keena Rothhammer and Shirley Babashoff, 200 yards on her back against would record-holder Melissa Belote and another 100 yards freestyle on a relay team.

JUST ANOTHER swim meet? Hardly, although Annie says she is the only person in the water she must worry about.

"I'm trying to go below 1:50 in the 200 free," Annie said without emotion. "I'd like 49 or 48."

Plain figures mean nothing until put into context. The current American record is 1:51.49 set by Kim Peyton.

Annie has clocked only a 1:52.29, two weeks ago in the Southeastern Interscholastics at the Emory University pool in Atlanta. Nevertheless, she doesn't blink. 1:51.4 is a pittance.

"I cut two seconds off my best time, from the preliminaries to the finals," Annie said. "I think I can do as well this time."

Any good swimmer would say as much. It's all part of the personal psyching-up. What makes Ann Marshall a great swimmer with a great future is that she believes she can swim 200 yards in 1:48, and she believes she can do it Saturday.

SUCH a feat, no doubt, would take a super-human effort. But in a sense, the past year has been super-human for Ann.

In June, as just another one of the Pine Crest girl swimmers, Annie was chosen high-school All American for a time of 1:56.4 in the 200-yard freestyle. The first week in August, she qualified for the Olympic team, finishing third in the 200-meter freestyle (an extra 22 yards) with a time of 2:07.54. The world record at the time was 2:05.8.

"No matter how hard I try, fight it, say I won't do it, my adrenalin takes me through my first 50 at 26 or so, comfortably."

Yet, for all the talk about Gould, Ann says she is swimming for first place. Nelson will be happy with a gold medal, too, but nothing less.

"I'll be happy with a first place," he said. "You know why? Because first place is sure gonna be an American record."

"If she goes under 1:50 but doesn't win, I'll be pacified. But I won't be satisfied until she owns and maintains all the freestyle world records from 100 meters to 1,500 meters and establishes herself as a great backstroke."

"WE'RE after Shane Gould, in that sense, or anyone else who gets in the way. Right now, Annie's one of the best swimmers in the world — but she isn't The Best. That's what we're working for."

If her opponents don't present enough pressure, certainly her coach must. But Nelson holds reservations, because he is confident Ann can handle anything.

Annie's feelings on Saturday's meet: "When I was first invited I had second thoughts. Now I don't have any. It's just like a high-school dual meet, except it'll be a little tougher."

Yet, as each meet comes and goes, Annie gets a little tougher, too. Who knows, maybe that record will fall this weekend.

BUT DON'T be kidded, her T-shirt with "Just a girl named Ann" Stenciled across the back is deceptive. When the call goes out for the 200-yard freestyle, Ann Marshall will not climb onto the blocks. Instead, she will be replaced by the U.S. Marines, Superman, Apollo 18, Hercules, Rin Tin Tin, Univac, Neptune, Atlas and Miss Liberty.

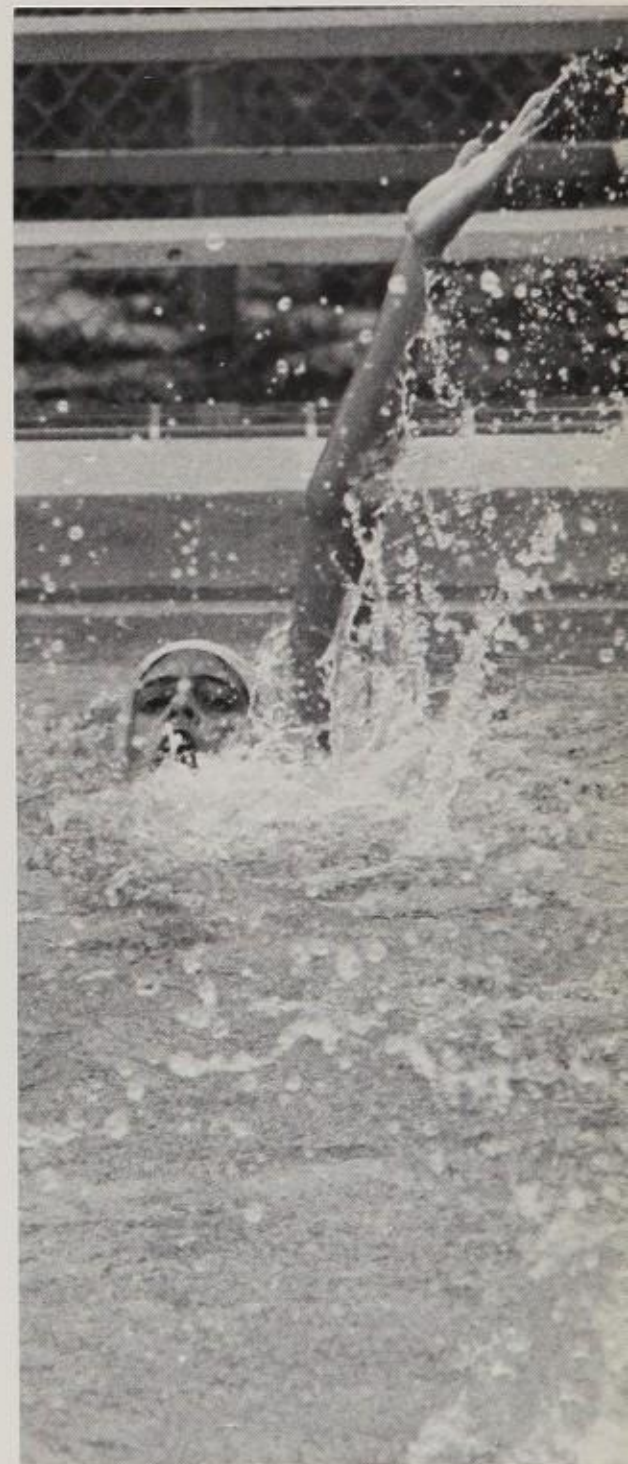

Maybe Ann Marshall isn't so ordinary after all. No matter, it should be an exciting day in the water.

A special thanks to President Phil Walker for really getting Pep Club off the ground this year!

The curtain slowly opened and a sign reading "Munich '72" could be seen on the back wall; the lights began to flash; and then down the aisles came the Mighty Moes to begin the fantastic spirit season of 72-73. It began as a wave that finally swept the entire school into the fun. First of all — the Pep Assemblies: the submarine joke, Mr. Totoero and Miss Glock stomping grapes, Mr. Mitten and Mr. Totoero twirling batons, the band, a salute to Anne Marshall and Wayne Grimditch, the faculty cheerleaders.

Yet the Pep Assemblies led up to some romping football games. Our team was doing fantastically, and more and more people were coming to the games — something special was demanded: soul cheers. So with a chitty-chitty bang bang the Pep Club opened a Super Soul Jamboree Pep Assembly. The sounds of: "right on," "so keep the faith," "the Panthers tell no lie," "the beaver call," and many more soon took the school by storm.

When Mrs. Repke told us to "give them the ax!" things really started moving. Football programs, panther honeys, and weird cheerleaders led the spirit section that pulled for our team all the way up through the Regional Championships. More fans attended the Frostproof game than any previous game. Pep Club sold out of programs and everyone was wearing a Panther button. Finally the cheering began and our fans really let the team know we were behind them. Still, even though the team lost, it was a fantastic ending to a super season and a season where spirit became number one at P. C.

But Pep Club didn't die with football; it kept going with pep assemblies for other sports, team awards, the faculty vs. the WQAM disc jockeys, and finally the Pep Club Untalent Show. It will be hard to forget Dave Behring and Steve Purinton playing dog and cat; or Marcy Glenn and Ted Carpenter as sweethearts. But it all just went to show — that you never knew what to expect from Pep Club, and that Pine Crest really does have super spirit!

The Homecoming week of 1972 was the best yet. Although there were no floats at the game, the decorated halls to the theme of "Around the World" added to the spirit throughout the week. Everyone had a chance to show his enthusiasm on each day. Included were "Around the World" day, "Crazy Hat" day, "Cowboy and Indian" day, "Clash" day, and "Green and White" day. The victory over Marathon brought the mighty Pine Crest Panthers to a fantastic climax, leading them on to the district championship.

FACULTY — STUDENT INTRAMURALS

This year while national elections for President and Vice-president were being held, Pine Crest conducted its own elections with Scott Shore representing Nixon and Glenn Horn speaking for McGovern. And we all know the results . . .

As one of the cultural art series, Pine Crest hosted "Radost," a European folk youth group. After their excellent singing and dancing performance, a student Radost party was held in the cafeteria.

Look to this Day!
For it is Life, the very Life of Life.
In its brief course lie all the Varieties and Realities of your existence.
The Bliss of Growth,
The Glory of Action,
The Splendor of Beauty;
For Yesterday is but a Dream
And Tomorrow is only a Vision;
But Today well lived makes Every Yesterday a Dream of Happiness
And every Tomorrow a Vision of Hope.
Look well therefore to this Day!
Such is the Salutation of the Dawn!"

THE 1973 STUDENT COUNCIL

A development by MGE INC./For McFadden Industries/3000 NE 30 Pl./Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.
Palmetto Airport Office PARK & MOTOR INN/Palmetto Expwy./Miami, Florida

And the youth said, speak to us of Friendship.

And he answered, saying:

Your friend is your needs answered.

He is your field which you sow with love and reap with thanksgiving.

And he is your board and your fireside.

For you come to him with your hunger, and you seek him for peace.

When your friend speaks his mind you fear not the "nay" in your mind, nor do you withhold the "ay."

And when he is silent your heart ceases not to listen to his heart;

For without words, in friendship,
all thoughts, all desires, all expectations are born and shared, with joy that is unclaimed.

When you part from your friend,
you grieve not;

For that which you love most in him may be clearer in his absence, as the mountain to the climber is clearer from the plain.

And let there be no purpose of friendship save the deepening of the spirit.

For love that seeks aught but the disclosure of its own mystery is not love but a net cast forth: and only the unprofitable is caught.

And let your best be for your friend.

If he must know the ebb of your tide, let him know its flood also.

For what is your friend that you should seek him with hours to kill?

Seek him always with hours to live.

For it is his to fill your need,
but not your emptiness.

And in the sweetness of friendship let there be laughter, and sharing of pleasures.

Kahlil Gibran
